

Case Study: Pip Evan-Cook

Here's 60 seconds with one of our clients Pip Evan-Cook who was looking for some support in her marketing business - The Marketing Architect.

What situation was your business in when you first came to Get Ahead VA?

I turned to Get Ahead VA for support when I found I didn't have the capacity to manage all the requirements that my clients had in one particular month

Services delivered:

Email Marketing

Graphic Design

How did we help solve the problem for you?

I was looking for support from someone who could quickly understand a brief and get to work straight away and that was what I got. I found Get Ahead's turnaround speed and reliability second to none.

They were also able to supply a first rate graphic designer who quickly created the items I needed and was great value.

What difference did this make to your business?

I was able to focus on the areas of the project which best suited my skills and expertise and complete each project in a timely manner.

I trust Carrie and her team. She manages expectations and ensures each project runs smoothly.
